3.4 Payment Options

What we will do

There are different payment options available to hardship customers, including:

- Payment plans
- Centrepay.
- Direct debit

When you are on our hardship program, we will offer you flexible payment options to suit your individual situation.

To make your payment plan, we will consider

- how much you can pay
- how much you owe
- how much energy we expect you will use in the next 12 months.

This will help us determine a payment plan that is right for you.

We will offer a payment plan to suit your situation. This will include payments to cover:

- what you owe
- an amount to cover your energy use.

Once we agree to a payment plan, we will send you information including:

- who you can contact for more help,
- how long the payment plan will go for,
- the amount you will pay each time,
- the number of payments you need to make,
- when you need to make your payments (this is also known as the frequency of the payments),
- how we worked out your payments.

You can choose to use Centrepay if you are eligible. Centrepay is a free service you can use to help pay your bills. Centrepay can automatically take an amount of money from your Centrelink payments to go toward energy bills and expenses.

We will see if another energy plan may be better for you. If you agree, we can transfer you to a better energy plan for free. We will contact you by your preferred method of contact in the following order,

- two business days after the planned payment is due and,
- five business days after the planned payment is due

This is to provide you with a fair and reasonable time to respond.

If you miss a planned payment and you do not engage with us, you may be reverted to a normal billing cycle and be removed off the hardship program

What you must do

Tell us if your situation changes and you can no longer make the payments in your plan. We can then review your payment arrangements.
